

While I think another broadband technology is a good thing to persue, the current BPL scheme suggested is a bad bad thing. I'm very concerned about the interference that it will cause to Shortwave broadcasters and Amateur Radio Operators (I am a Amateur, though I rarely transmit... I frequently listen to shortwave).

I live in PG&E Territory. They -already- have plenty of trouble keeping their transmission lines from interfering with radio. I'm not confident that they will be able to implement BPL without destroying the HF spectrum.

Please don't let them do it.
